

Eurostat database

Last update:02.12.2019

Databases are available for free directly on the Eurostat website.

Eurostat database

There are two ways to access the data according to user needs:

- for the average user - search in predefined tables (Tables), which contain the data of the main indicators of the EU (structural indicators, sustainable development, Euro-indicators, long-term indicators),
- for specialist training - using a more sophisticated tool for creating custom-defined selection of data from detailed databases of Eurostat (data); Registered users of the web site have a tool with sophisticated features for the selection of data, enabling them to wider selections and downloading in various formats;