Turnover in industry started increasing, it remained in decline only in construction

July's turnover increased in 4 out of 5 monthly monitored sectors of the economy, most significantly in selected market services. Turnover in industry returned to growth after two months of negative values. Enterprises in transportation and storage, as well as in information and communication activities, also prospered again. Only turnover in construction continued to lag behind last year's results.

Turnover in industrial enterprises¹⁾²⁾, a largest sector of the economy, rose by 3% year-on-year (in constant prices) in July 2024, which was only the second growth in the current year. Among the 16 monitored industrial sectors¹⁾, up to 12 recorded higher turnover values.

July's turnover in selected market services²⁾ rose by 12.6% year-on-year, they last rose at a similar double-digit rate in May 2019.

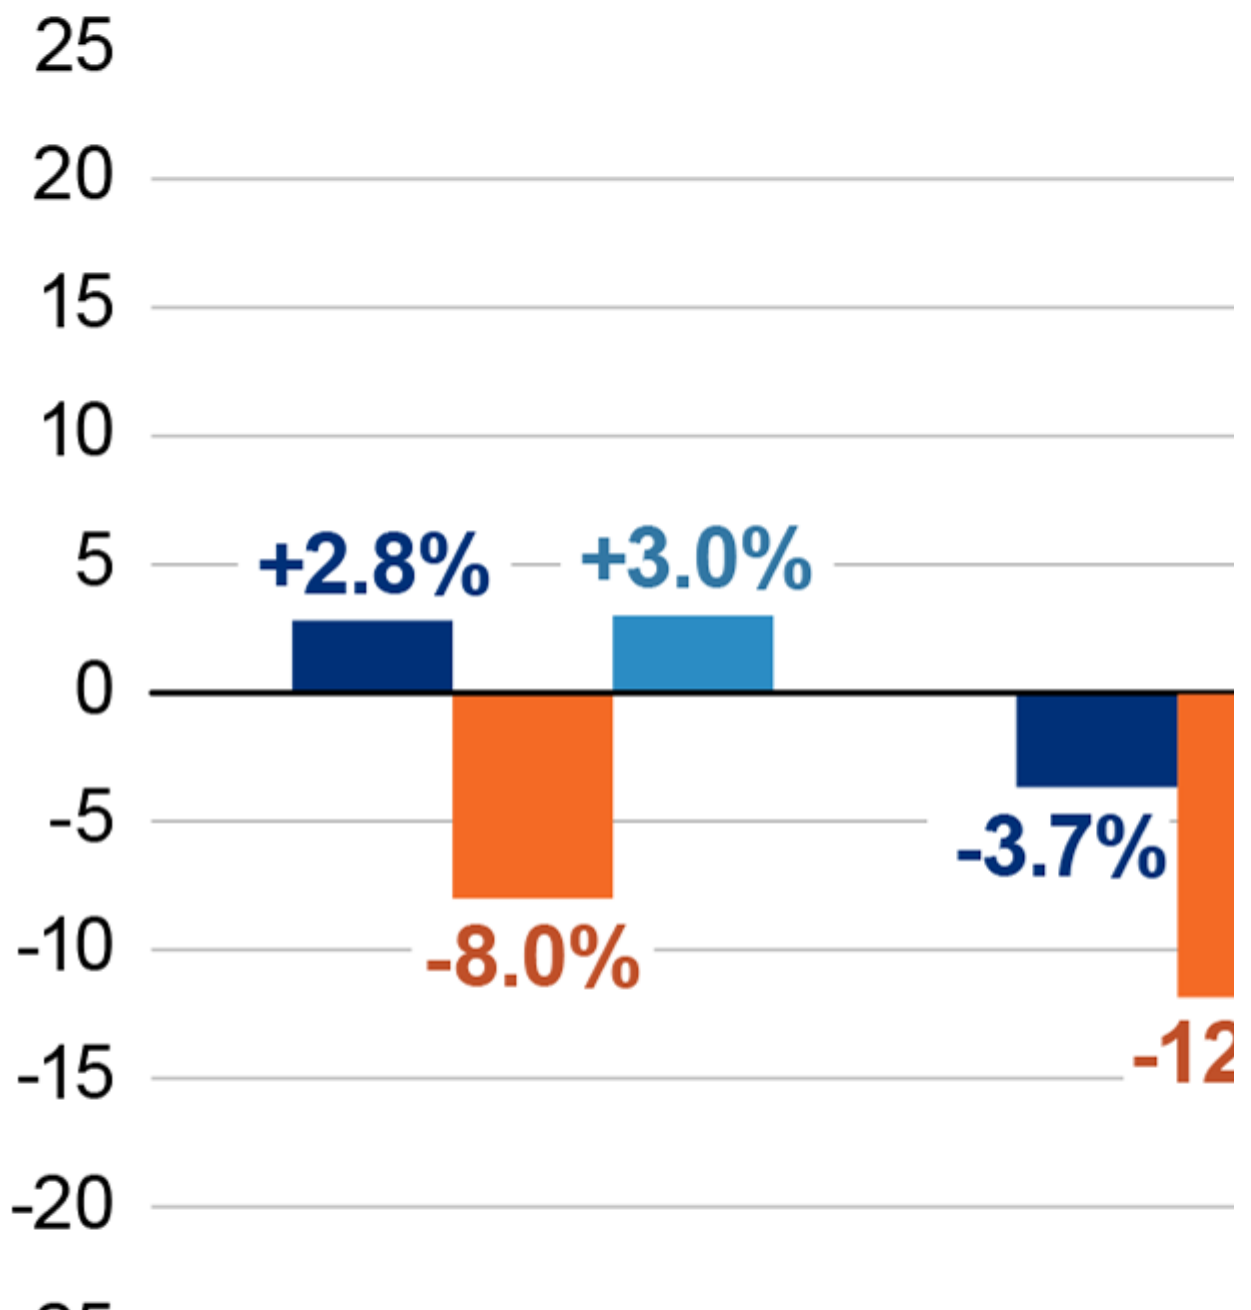

Transportation and storage enterprises recorded a turnover increase by 6.3%, thus returning to the trend of year-on-year growth in the current year after a slight decrease in June.

Turnover in information and communication activities²⁾ increased year-on-year by 8.1%, significantly accelerating the pace of their growth. Thus, they continued to maintain positive values this year.

In July 2024, turnover²⁾ of construction enterprises dropped by 4.3% year-on-year, and so they have remained in negative values for eleven months.
